[3] International student program for Natural History Sciences on Earth Sciences of Hokkaido University

Our graduate program has just received a special allocation of the Japanese Government Scholarships for master or Ph.D. degree, starting in October 2007 and calling for applications for the five subsequent years. This scholarship provided you with very generous allowance (<http://www.studyjapan.go.jp/en/toj/toj0306e.html>) (for the category of "Research Student" in this web page). For staff and research activities of our department, please refer to (http://www.ep.sci.hokudai.ac.jp/index_e.html). We are welcomed for anyone who likes to study at our graduate school. At this time, one must submit his/her application forms by the end of February, 2007.

If you (living either in or out of Japan) are interest or have any further questions, please feel free to contact me.
